

The E-Discovery Challenge

ECC Horizon provides advanced electronic data searches for clients who are required to meet Federal and State discovery rules in litigation. Our service captures and categorizes millions of client emails, instant messages and other electronic documents quickly, accurately and inexpensively.

ECC Horizon's automated service eliminates time-consuming, manual reviews of large electronic records. Our service can examine 400 file types in a matter of hours and at considerably lower cost than other methods. Our work is fully documented, repeatable and can be certified for the court.

The E-Discovery Solution

ECC Horizon's solution separates non-relevant data from pertinent e-mails, attachments, instant messages and other targeted digital documents. Our searches can occur instantly and provide real-time results allowing attorneys to review communications between senders, recipients, plaintiffs, defendants and others. As importantly, ECC Horizon manages the process, recommending e-discovery techniques and configuring solutions that maximize the review results.

Our solution makes e-discovery quicker, cheaper and more effective.

Our Advantages

ECC Horizon provides digital communication processing solutions for legal, regulatory and investigative matters in a single application. E-mail and other data from client computers, servers and archives are filtered to provide data subsets relevant to the case. The results are viewed by web browsers for further interactive culling, enabling litigators to quickly assess what key players were saying and doing—irrespective of data volume. It allows keyword testing, visual inspection of results and interactive refinement of searches during “meet and confer” preparation. E-mail content can be confirmed in hours or days instead of weeks or months, giving decision-making control to legal staff earlier than traditional e-discovery approaches. The client and legal team can actively participate in this “intelligent data culling” to reduce processing by third party litigation support staff. The systems attributes include:

Speed – Completes all e-mail and electronic file reviews in hours rather than days.

Visibility – Imparts early case insight to enhance “meet-and-confer” preparation.

Relevance – Removes up to 80 percent of irrelevant material.

Coherence – Groups output by relevance, content and discussion threads.

Accountability – Records search actions with intuitive interface - certifiable to the court.
